

16th International Conference on the Physical Properties and Application of Advanced Materials (ICPMAT2022)

- Due to the COVID situation in China, we are reluctant to tell you that the ICPMAT2022 will be organized virtually. The registration will be free of charge for all participants. The detail technique support information for the virtual conference will be announced later.
- You are welcome to submit your abstract using the template provided on the conference website (<https://icpmat2022.scievent.com>). The participants will have two choices to present their work, i.e., the oral talk and the poster presentation. For oral talk, the speaker will have enough time to present their work in detail. For poster presentation, the speaker will be given 5+2 minutes to introduce their work briefly online.
- The deadline for abstract submission is extended to 14th of October 2022. For your convenience, you can directly send your abstract to our official email ICPMAT2022@oa.shu.edu.cn.
